

SPECIAL NOTICES.

DAILY LEADER.

[For the Cleveland Leader.]
THE RITUAL.
BY THE FORWARD.

Tell, tell, ye bells, and break the dog dark silence, while the minions weep Of Lincoln's bairn.

Men for the nation, and the wife Grieve for the nation, and the wife.

"Twixt faith and fear.

And we bid him to virtuous grace,
And wait above in heaven for us.

For these we wait.

A stronger life from death like this,

And heavenly fires will wrap and kiss
The sacrifice.

SECRETARY STANTON AND HIS WAY.—
The New York Herald gives the following anecdote of Secretary Stanton, which accounts in part for the success of Lieutenant General Grant in succeeding better with the Army of the Potomac than his predecessors:

"When General Grant was about to leave Washington to enter upon that siege campaign which began with the battle of the Wilderness, and ended with the downfall of the rebellion, he called upon Secretary Stanton to say good by. During the two and a half years that President Lincoln and Secretary Stanton had managed the Government, General Grant had never, nor, so far as I can learn, without his knowledge, given up any measure, no matter how important, without first consulting Secretary Stanton, and then should he ever do so again, he would be in dangerous trouble."

The First Consul—Dr. Bell's Treatise and Acid Preparation, Dandy, Impen-sion and Love Power, Secreted. Spiritual Weakness, Insanity, Mental Disease, and Physical Distress. The following samples of 60 pages, containing important advice to the afflicted, and which should be read by every man before he goes to war. Price,
